

Capitol Connection Q&A for Contractors

Week of 3/18/2024

By Shauna Krause, President, Capitol Services, Inc.

Knowledge is how we cut red tape, see for yourself at cutredtape.com where previous contractor Q/A can be found. Keywords offer insight by topic. First, let's 'double down' on a qualifier inquiry, while we also discover some contractor rules are unbending, often depending on the state you're licensed in...

Q: I've been reading through your Q&A articles and see that two related companies can share a Qualifier if the majority of the personnel on the licenses match between the two entities. Under the same provision, where the majority of the personnel are the same on two licenses, can we add the Qualifier of one of the licensees to the other licensee, and vice versa? So in the end, both licenses will have two Qualifiers on them?

A: No, there is no provision which allows you to have two qualifiers on one license both holding the same classification. Only one qualifier per classification is permitted on a license, and this is true across the board.

Q: I have had my license for some time and over the years I have had and taken the asbestos certification test and passed. I have an ASB certification attached to this license. In addition, I have had a DOSH registration for well over 5 years in the past. Since I have taken and passed the ASB and have the ASB certification on my current license, is there a way to obtain a Waiver for the new "C-22" certification?

A: Thank you for contacting me. Unfortunately, there is no way to waive the C22 exam, that is the hardest classification to obtain and the CSLB doesn't bend on offering Waivers for the Trade exam based on passing the ASB certification exam. To qualify for the "C-22" classification, you are required to provide experience, proof of OSHA refresher courses, employee rosters from DOSH showing your name listed there, and of course proof of registration with DOSH.

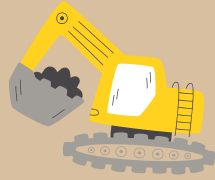

Q: Can we add the glazing classification to our NV license? I'm hoping we don't need to re-file since the application process was pretty grueling last time around.

A: Unfortunately, you cannot add classifications to your license in NV unless they are under the same category, i.e. you currently have a "C-15c" (Insulation) license so you can add any of the other sub-categories of the "C-15" to your license ("C-15a", "C-15b", etc). However, since the glazing license is a "C-8" license, you would be required to apply for a new license. Each separate classification requires a separate license in Nevada.

While knowledge is power, knowing where to go for the answers is half the battle. Get expert assistance immediately when you call 866-443-0657, email info@cutredtape.com, or write us at Capitol Services, Inc., 3609 Bradshaw Rd, Ste H, #343, Sacramento, CA 95827. INTRODUCTION

If you drive a company vehicle for work, you should know the emergency steps that need to be taken in the event that an emergency happens. Employees are required to follow all of the appropriate steps to keep themselves safe and make sure they are able to return to work as soon as possible.

BREAKING DOWN

If you notice that the vehicle is acting oddly, it is best to safely pull over or find a parking lot to sort the problem out before it breaks down completely. If your vehicle breaks down without warning, pull over to the shoulder or emergency lane if possible, then proceed with the following steps:

- Do not pull into the left-hand shoulder unless there is no other option.
- Turn your hazard lights on as soon as you are stopped to warn other drivers to be cautious.
- Turn your wheel away from the road and put the emergency brake on.
- Do not get out of the vehicle unless you have checked that it is completely safe to do so.
 - Get out through the passenger-side door if you are parked next to a busy road or highway.
 - Stay near your vehicle unless your engine is smoking or you see flames.
- Call 911 if you are hurt or unable to pull to the side of the road.
- If you have flares or triangles available, set them up. One should be placed about ten feet behind your vehicle and the other should be placed about 200 feet behind the vehicle.
- Pop your hood to reduce confusion, because this is the universal sign of a breakdown.
- Do not attempt to fix the problem by yourself if you are not sure what the problem is.

ACCIDENTS

Employees who are in an accident with another vehicle are advised to:

- Check yourself, passengers, and the other affected party for injuries, and call 911 if necessary.
- Pull over to a safe location, turn your hazards on, and set your emergency brake.
- Set up traffic flares, cones, or triangles as previously described.
- Call the police even for a minor accident.

- Exchange insurance information with the other driver.
- Do not admit fault and limit your discussion of the accident to facts.
- Take pictures of the damage, if possible.

WORKPLACE PROTOCOL

Once you have gone to the side of the road and performed all of the above steps, you must call the appropriate person from your company to let them know what happened.
